Title: Wireless Device With Integrated Emergency Alert Notification

DECLARATION OF DANIEL R. MILLER
UNDER 37 C.F.R. § 1.131

As a below named patent attorney, I hereby declare to the best of my knowledge that:

1. I was the initial patent attorney who represented BellSouth (now AT&T) in the above-captioned application. Mr. Darrick Wright and Mr. Paul Brent Rivers are the named inventors of the subject matter claimed in this application. At the time of the events described herein I was an employee at Kirkpatrick & Lockhart LLP (now Kirkpatrick & Lockhart Preston Gates Ellis LLP).
2. When I received the invention disclosure I had a reasonable backlog of unrelated cases. Redacted copies of my time entry reports for September 1, 2003 through January 30, 2004 are attached as Exhibit A.
3. On September 25, 2003, Mr. Wright sent me an email to set a time for a conference call to discuss the invention. A redacted copy of the September 25, 2003 email is attached as Exhibit B.
4. On September 29, 2003, I took part in that call with Mr. Wright, in which additional details of the invention were verbally conveyed to me.

5. On October 1, 2003, I received faxed information relating to the application from Mr. Rivers. A redacted copy of the fax cover sheet from that fax transmission is attached as Exhibit C.
6. Between October 1, 2003, and November 30, 2003, I worked diligently to prepare a draft of the subject patent application. During this time I had a reasonable backlog of unrelated cases which I took up in order of priority and carried out expeditiously.
7. On December 1, 2003, I sent an email to both Mr. Wright and Mr. Rivers attaching a first draft of the subject application. My email set a three-week period for the inventors to review and comment on the draft application.
8. I received approval on the draft from both inventors on December 3, 2003. Redacted copies of the email chains sending the draft application to Mr. Wright and Mr. Rivers and their approvals, are attached as Exhibits D and E, respectively.
9. Between December 3, 2003, and December 31, 2003, I worked diligently to revise the application. During this time I had a reasonable backlog of unrelated cases which I took up in order of priority and carried out expeditiously.
10. On December 31, 2003, I requested residence and citizenship information from Mr. Wright, as evidenced by the redacted email chain attached as Exhibit F.
11. Between December 31, 2003, and January 13, 2004, I worked diligently to finalize the application and prepare declaration and assignment documents for the application. During this time I also had a reasonable backlog of unrelated cases which I took up in order of priority and carried out expeditiously.
12. On January 13, 2004, I sent to Mr. Wright and Mr. Rivers a final draft of the application, along with declaration and assignment documents for their execution via Federal Express. A redacted copy of the letter forwarding the final draft is attached as Exhibit G.

13. I received the declaration and assignment documents executed January 14, 2004. Between January 15, 2004, and January 19, 2004, I worked diligently to file the application and I had a reasonable backlog of unrelated cases, which I took up in order of priority and carried out expeditiously. On January 20, 2004, the application was filed, as evidenced by the transmittal document and receipt from the USPTO, a copy of which is attached as Exhibit H.

The dates related to conception and other proprietary information included in the exhibits have been redacted, as permitted by MPEP § 715.07(II).

All statements made herein of my own knowledge are true, and all statements made on information and belief are believed to be true. Further, these statements are made with the knowledge that willful false statements and the like so made are punishable by fine or imprisonment, or both, under Section 1001 of Title 18 of the United States Code and that such willful false statement may jeopardize the validity of the application or any patent issued therefrom.

Action Required: Please review the first draft application by December 22, 2003 and provide comments. Detailed instructions for your review of the draft are provided below.

Dear Mr. Wright:

Enclosed is a first draft of a patent application directed to the above-identified invention for your review. The draft is based in part on our discussions of [REDACTED]

12/03/2003

This is a draft, so feel free to make additions, deletions, substitutions, and the like. Please provide your consolidated comments by December 22, 2003.

As you know, it is essential that the patent application, as filed, be technically accurate and complete; and that it set forth the best mode of carrying out the invention, because new matter may not be added to the descriptive portion after filing. The patent application's description must also be sufficient to enable a person of ordinary skill in the technical art to make and use the invention. We therefore ask that you carefully review the draft for technical accuracy and completeness, and advise us of any suggested changes or corrections. Your changes and suggestions will be carefully considered in the preparation of the final draft. Action Required: Please review draft for technical accuracy and completeness as described above.

We also request that you review the claims of the application. The claims are the numbered paragraphs at the end of the application that define the scope of protection that is being sought for the invention. Action Required: Please review the claims and confirm that the claims properly define the invention.

When you review the claims, please confirm that the proper inventors have been identified for the claimed invention(s). As you may be aware, inventorship is determined by the subject matter of the claimed invention. Generally stated, to be an inventor one must have made an actual contribution to the conception of the operative invention that is claimed. There may be joint inventorship even though the joint inventors (a) did not work physically together or at the same time, (b) did not make an equal contribution, or (c) did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent. A worker who merely carries out the instructions of another or only provides implementing devices to carry out another's ideas where the effort to do so is the exercise of one of ordinary skill is not typically an inventor. Further, persons listed as contributing to an article describing or related to the invention are not necessarily inventors. Please feel free to call with any questions that you may have on this issue. Action Required: Please confirm that the proper inventors have been named.

We would also like to point out that an inventor is required to make a Declaration when the inventor's application is filed in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), acknowledging a duty to disclose information of which the inventor is aware and which may be considered to be material to the examination of the application. "Material" in this respect is defined as information that a reasonable examiner would likely consider important in deciding whether to issue a patent. "Material" information as defined above may possibly include devices, products, publications, etc. that are similar to the invention and were publicly known before the invention, and it may also include any public disclosure, commercial use, or offer of sale of the invention more than one year prior to the filing date of the application.

If you are aware of any information that you believe might be considered "material", it is important that it be brought to our attention as soon as possible. Late submission of material information requires payment of a fee. Accordingly, we request that you provide us with any material references of which you are aware as soon as conveniently possible. We can then make a determination whether the information should be brought to the attention of the Patent and Trademark Office under the applicable rules. Please also be aware that the duty to disclose "material" information continues throughout pendency of the application, until the application issues as a patent.

You should also be aware that certain activities either in the United States or foreign countries prior to filing of the application in the United States may have a bearing on the ability to file corresponding applications in foreign countries under the applicable international treaty. These activities could include public disclosure of the invention in either written or oral form, such as published articles, patents, product announcements, and proposals, as well as through commercial exploitation of the invention, including public demonstrations, offers to sell, and sale of products incorporating the invention. If you would like to preserve your right to file corresponding foreign applications on this invention; we recommend that all such activities be avoided until the U.S. application is on file. Action Required: To preserve foreign patent filing rights, please avoid public disclosure of the invention in either written or oral form, and commercial exploitation of the invention, including public demonstrations, offers to sell, and sale of products incorporating the invention until the U.S. patent application has been filed.

Once you have had an opportunity to review the draft application, please provide me with your comments. As always, please feel free to call us with any questions that you may have.

Sincerely,

/s/ Daniel R. Miller

Enclosed is a first draft of a patent application directed to the above-identified invention for your review. The draft is based in part on our discussions on [REDACTED]. This is a draft, so feel free to make additions, deletions, substitutions, and the like. Please provide your consolidated comments to [REDACTED].

As you know, it is essential that the patent application, as filed, be technically accurate and complete; and that it set forth the best mode of carrying out the invention, because new matter may not be added to the descriptive portion after filing. The patent application's description must also be sufficient to enable a person of ordinary skill in the technical art to make and use the invention. We therefore ask that you carefully review the draft for technical accuracy and completeness, and advise us of any suggested changes or corrections. Your changes and suggestions will be carefully considered in the preparation of the final draft. Action Required: Please review draft for technical accuracy and completeness as described above.

We also request that you review the claims of the application. The claims are the numbered paragraphs at the end of the application that define the scope of protection that is being sought for the invention. Action Required: Please review the claims and confirm that the claims properly define the invention.

When you review the claims, please confirm that the proper inventors have been identified for the claimed invention(s). As you may be aware, inventorship is determined by the subject matter of the claimed invention. Generally stated, to be an inventor one must have made an actual contribution to the conception of the operative invention that is claimed. There may be joint inventorship even though the joint inventors (a) did not work physically together or at the same time, (b) did not make an equal contribution, or (c) did not make a contribution to the subject matter of every claim of the patent. A worker who merely carries out the instructions of another or only provides implementing devices to carry out another's ideas where the effort to do so is the exercise of one of ordinary skill is not typically an inventor. Further, persons listed as contributing to an article describing or related to the invention are not necessarily inventors. Please feel free to call with any questions that you may have on this issue. Action Required: Please confirm that the proper inventors have been named.

We would also like to point out that an inventor is required to make a Declaration when the inventor's application is filed in the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office (USPTO), acknowledging a duty to disclose information of which the inventor is aware and which may be considered to be material to the examination of the application. "Material" in this respect is defined as information that a reasonable examiner would likely consider important in deciding whether to issue a patent. "Material" information as defined above may possibly include devices, products, publications, etc. that are similar to the invention and were publicly known before the invention, and it may also include any public disclosure, commercial use, or offer of sale of the invention more than one year prior to the filing date of the application.

If you are aware of any information that you believe might be considered "material", it is important that it be brought to our attention as soon as possible. Late submission of material information requires payment of a fee. Accordingly, we request that you provide us with any material references of which you are aware as soon as conveniently possible. We can then make a determination whether the information should be brought to the attention of the Patent and Trademark Office under the applicable rules. Please also be aware that the duty to disclose "material" information continues throughout pendency of the application, until the application issues as a patent.

You should also be aware that certain activities either in the United States or foreign countries prior to filing of the application in the United States may have a bearing on the ability to file corresponding applications in foreign countries under the applicable international treaty. These activities could include public disclosure of the invention in either written or oral form, such as published articles, patents, product announcements, and proposals, as well as through commercial exploitation of the invention, including public demonstrations, offers to sell, and sale of products incorporating the invention. If you would like to preserve your right to file corresponding foreign applications on this invention, we recommend that all such activities be avoided until the U.S. application is on file. Action Required: To preserve foreign patent filing rights, please avoid public disclosure of the invention in either written or oral form, and commercial exploitation of the invention, including public demonstrations, offers to sell, and sale of products incorporating the invention until the U.S. patent application has been filed.

Once you have had an opportunity to review the draft application, please provide me with your comments. As always, please feel free to call us with any questions that you may have.

Sincerely,

/s/ Daniel R. Miller

ACTION REQUIRED: Please review the enclosed patent application and if the application is complete and accurate, then execute and return the enclosed Declaration and Assignment by January 27, 2004.

Dear Darrick:

Thank you for your comments regarding the above-referenced patent application. Enclosed for your review is a final draft of the application that we plan to file in the United States Patent and Trademark Office ("PTO"). Also enclosed for execution are: (1) a Declaration; and (2) an Assignment. Please note that the Assignment should be signed in the presence of a Notary Public. If, in reviewing the final draft, you feel that further revisions are necessary, please contact me before executing the Declaration and Assignment so that I can prepare and forward a revised final draft.

If the application is acceptable, the Declaration at the end of the application must be dated and signed so that the typed name and signature are exactly the same. The Assignment must be dated and signed. We recommend that the Assignment be dated and signed in the presence of a Notary Public. The Assignment transfers ownership of the patent application from the inventor to the company. The inventors are not required to jointly sign a single declaration or assignment. Each inventor may execute the documents separately. Action Required: Sign Declaration; Sign and Notarize Assignment Document.

So that you might prepare for the next step in the patent application process, you should be aware that the law imposes a continuing duty on the inventor, the patent attorney, any assignee company, and anyone else who is substantially involved in the preparation or prosecution of the patent application. The duty is one of candor and good faith to disclose to the U.S. Patent and Trademark Office all information of which these people are aware which is material to the examination of the patent application. If the duty is not properly fulfilled, any patent issuing from the application may be found invalid.

We ask that you gather together and forward to us all documents, articles, videos, brochures, advertisements, etc. about devices, whether or not they were sold commercially, which were used or described in public by you or others, which have some reasonable similarity to your invention.
Action Required: Submit all relevant documents and articles for potential submission to the PTO.

Please return the executed papers to us in the enclosed Federal Express envelope. If the application should be revised in any way, or if you have any questions regarding this matter, please contact us.
